The lights of the 50th State Fair illuminate the skies at Aloha Stadium. The fair attracted visitors from all over the island to the enjoyment of all.

Hawaii’s 50th State Fair

Thrills, fun, excitement for the people of Oahu

HONOLULU—Colored lights, loud music, screaming children, laughing parents and the smell of cotton candy and hot dogs filled the Aloha Stadium parking lot as the 50th State Fair made its annual visit to the venue.

Fairgoers were treated to a myriad of carnival attractions including traditional rides, competitive games, thrilling special attractions and aromatic food.

For the thrill seekers, there was the typical assortment of carnival rides. They included the Ferris wheel, the Zapper, the Tilt-o-whirl, and one of the more popular rides, the Inverter.

“The inverter was my favorite because it is really fast and turns you all kinds of different ways,” said Chris Tanagi, a fairgoer.

For the competitive crowd, the fair offered an assortment of challenging games with many prizes to be won. Games included challenges like shooting out the star on a paper using a BB gun, breaking glass bottles with baseballs, throwing a dart with dead-eye accuracy and knocking down milk bottles with a softball. The games drew a heavy crowd of ambitious prize seekers attempting to win the endless bounty offered for victory in the challenges.

“I like the dart game, my boyfriend played it five times before he won me a teddy bear,” said Kim Lawson, who carried a brown teddy bear adorned with a little red bow in her arms.

The special attractions were a big draw, filled to standing room only with every performance. At one end of the fair “Celebration on Ice,” an ice-skating musical extravaganza bombarded the senses with catchy music, a light show and performances by eight different skaters.

The more popular special attraction was the “Acapulco High Dive Thrill Show.” A water entertainment spectacular, showcasing the feats of professional divers on a number of diving boards and platforms. One of the show’s features was the “Human Torch Flaming Dive,” during which a cape and sweatsuit-clad diver lights himself on fire before leaping off of a 10-meter platform.

The show concluded with a real crowd pleaser when Manny Mendez, former Portugese diving champion, ascended to the top of an 80-foot ladder, gathered his concentration, waited for a break in the wind, then leapt into a 10-foot pool. Using his diving skills, he averted hitting the bottom of the pool.

“The show was great,” said Michael Becker, a fair attendee. “You wouldn’t catch me setting myself on fire or jumping from an 80-foot platform.”

The fair left its visitors happy and well-entertained as they departed the bright lights and vivid sights to leave their short relived childhood to resume their lives.

The 50th State Fair will continue through June 17 and is open Fridays from 6 p.m. to midnight and weekends from noon to midnight. Ticket prices are as follows: children under 3 years old enter free, $1.50 for children ages 4-11, 2$ for children 12 and $3 for adults.

Aloha Stadium is located near Camp H.M. Smith, just off of the H-1 West on Salt Lake Boulevard.

A carnival game competitor attempts to sink a softball into the slightly-larger-than-a-softball-sized hole in the top of a milk can.

A member of the Aquamaniacs, a portion of the “Acapulco High Dive Thrill Show” clowned around by letting loose a mouthful of water as he leapt from the 3-meter diving board toward the pool.

Above—One of the games at the 50th State Fair challenged players to toss a whiffle ball into a myriad of glasses. The task was much harder than it sounds, these two balls failed to garner their tosser a prize. Left—The Ferris wheel picks up speed as it carries its riders in a never ending circle. The Ferris wheel is by far the most visible fair ride and can be seen for miles around.

Headquarters Battalion rivals face off

In heated Intramural Softball action Monday night, two teams from Headquarters Bn., MCB Hawaii, faced off for the first time this season to not only better their record, but to earn battalion bragging rights.

The HQ Bn. Dawgs faced their rivals, the Anderson Hall Black Sheep. In the end, it was the Dawgs who came out victorious, 10-6.

“They are really good,” said Jeffery Privott, coach and shortstop for the Black Sheep. “There is a rivalry here since we are both from HQ Bn.”

Early in the game, the Black Sheep endured a spell of defensive errors. The Dawgs took early advantage of this by scoring four runs in the first two innings.

This plague of errors left the Black Sheep in the second inning and shifted to the Dawgs.

In the third inning, the Dawgs allowed the Black Sheep to score four more runs, closing the gap to 7-5.

During the middle innings, Dawgs coach/pitcher Brian Thompson was able to strike out two of the Black Sheep. “We were ready for this game like everyone else,” said Thompson. “We came out here to play and have fun.”

Dawg defense is what kept the Black Sheep at bay. Plays like the one made by Robert Rosenbaum, the Dawg’s right fielder, was a display of the defensive prowess of the Dawgs.

In the fifth inning, a ball was hit into right field where Rosenbaum was ready. As the ball flew towards the first base foul line, he took off after it. Even though many of his teammates were yelling “foul ball,” he kept after the ball and made a diving catch.

This play overshadowed an earlier error committed by Josh Robin, the Dawg’s shortstop. His error was nullified after he cracked a pitch over the center field fence for a homerun.

The equally matched teams fought to the end on the diamond-shaped battlefield. But, after Robin’s homerun, it was downhill for the Dawgs.

“There was an inter-battalion rivalry here,” said Thompson, “but I wanted to win this game and it wasn’t easy.”

The Dawgs advanced their record to 5-2 and will attempt to increase their five-game winning streak Friday at Annex field against the 1st Radio Bn. Bumbaclots.

Terrance Tobin, 2nd baseman for the Black Sheep, makes a diving attempt to snag a hit up the middle.

WORD TO PASS

Coast Guard Boating Course
Kaneohe’s Auxiliary Flotilla 1-14 will present its popular boating course starting June 14 and running through July 26.
Classes will be held at Kalaheo High School, Monday and Thursday evenings, from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Kalaheo is located at 730 Iliana St., Kailua. Classes will meet in Room A-2.
This course is certified and meets the U.S. Coast Guard, state and national boating law administrators requirements.
Upon certification, participants, will be eligible for boat insurance discounts, one year, free membership in Boat/US and a discount on marine safety products.

The course covers federal equipment requirements, boat handling, navigation aids, federal navigation rules, coastal navigation, radio communications, engines, knots and lines, weather, and much more.

Though classes are free of charge, the manuals and workbooks for certification cost $35, preregistered, and $40, at the door.

Registration is limited to 40 students.

Hoop Jam Registration

Anyone between the ages of seven to 107 is invited to register for the annual Hoop Jam Basketball Festival, June 23-24.

The festival will be held at the Mother Waldron Building, Kakaako, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., on both days.

Teams are sought for three-ball half court and four-ball full court basketball, and a division winner will have the chance to represent Hoop Jam in the Las Vegas tournament.

NBA hopeful Clifton Jones will be on hand at the festival.

In its seventh year, Hoop Jam, formerly known as World Basketball Festival, is associated with the Hoop World Basketball Festival. More than 300 teams participated last year.

Entry forms must be received by Wednesday, and they are available at Sports Authority, VoiceStream, 7-Eleven stores, 24-Hour Fitness and Midas.

Proceeds will partly benefit Special Olympics Hawaii and other local charities.

For more information, call the Hoop Jam Hotline at 235-2020, or visit their website at www.hoopjam.net.
